REPORT

HIS-6208 An Introduction to Manuscriptology and Paleography with Reference to Modi Script from 05 January 2026 to 16 January 2026

A 2-credit course, "HIS-6208 An Introduction to Manuscriptology and Paleography with Reference to Modi Script," was conducted by the Discipline of History, D. D. Kosambi School of Social Sciences and Behavioural Studies, Goa University, in collaboration with the Department of Goa Gazetteer & Historical Records, Government of Goa, from 05 January 2026 to 16 January 2026. A total of 76 participants registered for the course; however, 63 attended and completed. Among these 76 participants, 13 were faculty members from Goa University and Colleges, 8 were public, and 55 were students from the Disciplines of History, Marathi, and English. Dr. Girish Dattatray Mandke, Former Curator, Maratha History Museum, Deccan College, Pune, was the course instructor, and all the classes were held from 2:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. at the Seminar Hall, Faculty Block B, Goa University.

The inaugural ceremony of the course was held on 05 January 2026 at 02:00 p.m. Dr. Parag D. Parobo, the course's Coordinator and Associate Professor of History, introduced the course and its instructor, Dr. Girish Dattatray Mandke, and briefed participants on the guidelines and expectations. The Chief Guest for the inaugural ceremony was Dr. Joanna Coelho, Professor of Sociology and Vice-Dean (Research), D.D. Kosambi School of Social Sciences and Behavioural Studies. In her inaugural address, Prof. Coelho highlighted the importance of the course as a part of Indian Knowledge Systems. The Guest of Honour, Dr. Balaji S. Shenvi, Executive Editor & Ex officio Joint Secretary, Government of Goa, highlighted the importance of the Modi script in constructing the history of Goa. Shri. Vinod Kankonkar, Programme Director, History, proposed a vote of thanks.

The course aimed to introduce participants to the Modi script, a prominent cursive writing with conjoined letter forms and abbreviated vowels. The course was based on learning about Modi through the Modi documentation, enabling students to read, transcribe, and analyse historical records. A spiral-bound volume of course material for personal use and study, shared by Dr. Mandke, was made available to all the registered participants. The course was structured into 30 sessions, each 60 minutes long.

The course included the following topics:

1. History, usage, and decline of the Modi script.
2. Origin and development of Brahmi, Nagari, Balbodh, and Devanagiri.
3. Introduction to Modi manuscripts. Types of Modi manuscripts.
4. Modi Barakhadi. Alphabets. Vowels, Consonants. Compound words. Sentences. Linguistic features of Modi documents.

5. Dating: Shaka, Hijri, Fasali, Suhursan, Rajyabhisheka. Techniques for interpreting Modi numbers and converting dates from the Hindu (Saka) or Islamic calendar to the Gregorian calendar.
6. Reading and Transcribing Archival Documents. Reading practice using old documents, manuscripts, and letters, particularly those from the Maratha history.
7. Preparing the Index and summaries of the Modi documents.

A valedictory function was held at 4:00 p.m. on 16 January 2026. Participants were invited to provide feedback on the themes, methodologies, and effectiveness in learning and transcribing the Modi script. Dr. Mandke shared his experiences focusing on his interactive teaching methodologies and practical, hands-on learning techniques. The Chief Guest, Professor Nagendra Rao, Dean of D. D. Kosambi School of Social Sciences and Behavioural Studies, Goa University, delivered the valedictory address and felicitated the course instructor, Dr. Mandke. The course concluded with the distribution of certificates to the participants. Shri. Vinod Kankonkar, Programme Director, History, proposed a vote of thanks.

Sub: Regarding Introduction of New Curriculum

Sir,

With reference to above cited subject and in continuation to our discussion, we have enclosed herewith the draft of a curriculum titled 'An Introduction to Manuscriptology and Paleography with Reference to Modi Script' which may be made part of the under graduation and Post-graduation level teaching curriculum in order to enhance skill based education to the students.

There are very limited scholars who know Modi script and there are several records in this script which are yet to be deciphered. In this regard imparting the skill of Modi script will equip the students to undertake research and also this will help in safeguarding the script which was once used.

The proposal is submitted for seeking necessary approvals of the competent authorities in Goa University as per the established procedure for vetting the syllabus attached herewith and for undertaking the course in joint collaboration with DD Kosambi School of Social Sciences and Behavioural Studies.

The expenditure regarding printing and stationery, food and refreshment, Honorarium to the resource person and any other expenses will be borne by this Department. University may provide, local hospitality and infrastructural facilities for this course.

In view of the above, for the revival of this historical script imparting the knowledge about the script amongst the students is the need of an hour. Hoping to receive co-operation in this endeavour.

Yours faithfully,

(Dr. Balaji S Shenvy)

Executive Editor, &

Ex-officio Joint Secretary Government of Goa
