10. The objectives of the Program	• To facilitate academic and fieldwork exchange between students and faculty of Bharathiar University and Goa University. • To promote cross-cultural learning and sharing of Social Work experiences among students. • To strengthen academic interaction and collaboration between the two universities.

11. Description of the Program

The programme was organized as an educational and interaction-based programme for Social Work students with the objective of providing students with opportunities to learn beyond the classroom. The programme focused on welcoming the students, sharing academic and fieldwork experiences, promoting interactions between institutions, and encouraging students to learn from different social and cultural backgrounds.

The programme began with the arrival and registration of students and faculty members; a welcome speech was delivered by a student, creating a friendly and positive atmosphere for the participants; followed by the escorting of the dignitaries: Dean of DDKSSBS Prof. Nagendra Rao, Vice Dean Dr. Arvind Haldankar, Faculty of Bharathiar University Dr. Arjunan and Dr. Nalina on the stage by the Programme Director of Social Work Programme, Ms. Naik. The Dean and Vice Dean welcomed the students and spoke about Goa, its culture, tradition, and the importance of understanding people from different regions and developing a sense of unity and mutual respect.

The visiting faculty Dr. R. Arjunan and Dr. Nalina spoke at length about the programme at their university achievements, in various areas and specialisations offered by their department. Ma'am Naik, P.D. of the Social Work Department, Goa University, too, gave a detailed idea of the course offered at the department, activities, and fieldwork undertaken by students of MSW at Goa University.

Students of Goa University also shared an overview of the various academic and fieldwork activities they had undertaken as part of the MSW programme. They spoke about their experiences, learnings and involvement in specific activities conducted during their course, providing the visiting students with an insight into the academic and practical exposure offered through the programme. The interaction allowed students from both universities to learn about each other's experiences, areas of interest and approaches to Social Work education and field-based learning.

A student interaction session was then conducted, during which students from both universities exchanged their experiences and discussed their respective courses, specialisations and areas of academic interest. The interaction provided an opportunity for students to learn from one another and explore possibilities for future academic engagement.

The session concluded with the exchange of mementos between the two universities, followed by a vote of thanks and group photographs. The students of Bharathiar University were then taken on a tour of the Goa University campus, followed by lunch. The programme concluded at approximately 1:45 p.m.

12. Benefit/Key outcomes of the Program/activity/event	The session helped students of both universities understand different perspectives and encouraged them to continue working together in their academic fieldwork activity. - Overall the programme was a valuable learning, interaction and exposure opportunity for social work students. - It strengthened communication, teamwork, cultural understanding, institutional collaboration and professional learning. - The programme demonstrated that social work education is not limited to classroom teaching but also involves field exposure, social interaction, experiential learning and collaboration. - It encouraged students to become more confident, socially aware, cooperative and prepared for their future roles as professional social workers.
